SUMMER SCHOOL!

All right, I admit those two words together sound like a drag, but summer is a treasure trove of opportunities to live out our design principles! For example, if you really believe that "nature is our teacher," turn off the TV and go outside and discover something. How about making this summer about more than your recreation? Find some friends and a cause and go improve our world! Don't get discouraged if your first attempts fail, try something else tomorrow.

Take responsibility for your learning and discover where your wonderful (and not so wonderful) ideas can take you!

"It's a dangerous business going out your door. You step into the Road and if you don't mind your feet, there's no knowing where you might be swept off to." ~Bilbo Baggins
